Hi Everyone

WOW what a year it's been, what with Covid, and me having a cancer operation in January. It's been a year to forget.

So forward we must go, as I'm missing teaching so much seeing you all and having a good laugh. I'm going to start again w/c June 21st . To start with I'm keeping it to 2 people at a time who have had at least one Jab, preferably 2. (this will probably change to 4 people when we can.)

I also have a few hospital/ doctor appointments at the moment, so we will have to work around them.

So if you would like to come, give me a few dates you can do, it's probably easiest if you ring me so we can check our diaries together.

When you come, you can look out my paintings and choose what painting you'd like to do and we'll have a great relaxing day painting.

The cost is still £50 each which includes everything you need to complete your masterpiece.

We start at 10am and finish between 3 or 4pm in the afternoon, (you can park in my driveway) just bring something to eat for lunch. And wear old clothes.

It is a very relaxed atmosphere, it doesn't matter if you've never painted before, I will show you how the painting is built up, bit by bit, into a masterpiece to be proud of.

I know I shall be pleased to be teaching again, I look forward to seeing you in the near future.

Kind Regards

Kim
